"How to Become a Storekeeper."
LESSON IV.
MR. CHARLES M. HAGAN,
General Manager for the Siegel-Cooper Co.

1. Having made an application to the hospital the young lady who aspires to be a nurse receives a blank to fill in with intimate information about herself, her age, nationality, residence, religion, etc., etc.

2. If she passes a preliminary examination and is admitted by the superintendent of the hospital for probationary work, she is sent to the matron, who assigns her to her first duties in the wards.

3. Such as dusting the chairs and other furniture; or—

4. Scrubbing floors and scouring pails and kettles.

5. If her probationary services, usually without pay, are satisfactory, she gets her "cap" and nurse's uniform, and after signing a contract is admitted to the junior year.

6. As a junior nurse she will be kept busy at various duties, such as cutting gauze sponges, for instance; and—

7. At spare times she will study constantly for the senior examination, which she must pass to get her diploma as a professional nurse.

8. She must be above all things accurate, and attentive to the doctor's orders about the patients in her ward.

9. In time she learns how to apply a figure 8 bandage.

10. Preparing a patient for an operation is one of the most advanced and important duties of the senior year.

11. Finally comes assignment to night duty at the bedside of dangerous cases, where she has to keep a written report of the slightest change in their condition during her long diploma watch.

12. After these slight suggestions of what a young girl has to go through to become a nurse, who will say that she does not earn a change in their condition during her long diploma watch.

MAY MANTON'S HELPS FOR HOME DRESSMAKING.

SUMMER COSTUMES.

Fancy blouse, No. 4028. Box-plated shirt waist, No. 4035. Tucked skirt, No. 3851. Three-piece skirt, No. 2922. Tucks and box plaits share the honors of the season and look too much in vogue. The dainty costume to the left of pearl gray silk voile with trimming of cream lace and includes tucks in both blouse and skirt. The foundation or fitted lining of the waist closes at the centre back, together with material. The waist proper is tucked at the back in groups which extend from the shoulders to the waist and produce a tapering effect. The front is novel and gives the square effect now so fashionable. The tucks at the centre extend to the yoke depth only, then fall free to form soft folds, but those at the shoulders are extended to the waist line, the trimming being applied between to form the square neck. The sleeves are in bishop style and at the neck is a regulation stock. The skirt is circular and is laid in tucks that are arranged in groups of three within flounce depth of the edge of the skirt, where they are left free to form becoming fullness and folds, and are slightly overlapped at the belt to give the perfectly snug fit. The back is simply plain, with fulness arranged in gathers required for the medium size is: For blouse, 4 yards 21 inches wide, 3 yards 27 or 32 inches wide, or 2 yards 44 inches wide; for skirt, 8-14 yards 21 inches wide, 6-14 yards 32 inches wide or 4-14 yards 44 inches wide.

If both patterns are wanted, send 20 cents.

The costume to the right shows a skirt of lightweight cheviot, worn with a shirt waist of embroidered pongee. Both the fronts and the back of the waist are laid in narrow box plaits that are stitched for their entire length and are drawn down in gathers at the waist line to give a tapering effect to the figure. The sleeves are plain, in regulation shirt style, and are finished with straight, square-cornered cuffs. At the neck is a plain stock that closes at the back. The closing is effected by means of buttons and button-holes worked in the centre box plait. The front of the skirt is plain, shaped, to be close fitting at the top and to flare at the feet. The side portions are circular and to their lower edges the circular flounce is seamed. Short hip darts effect a snug fit at the sides and the fulness at the back is laid in inverted plaits. The quantity of material required for the medium size is: For blouse, 4 yards 21 inches wide, 3-1/2 yards 27 inches wide, 2-1/2 yards 32 inches wide or 2 yards 44 inches wide; for skirt, 8-14 yards 21 inches wide, 7 yards 27 inches wide, 4 yards 44 inches wide or 3-1/2 yards 32 inches wide.

The waist pattern, No. 4028, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure. It will be mailed for 10 cents. The skirt pattern, No. 4035, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure. It will be mailed for 10 cents. If both patterns are wanted, send 20 cents. If in a hurry for your patterns, send an extra 2-cent stamp for each pattern and they will be promptly mailed by the letter post in sealed envelope. Send money to "Cashier, The World, Pulitzer Building, New York City."

NO ONE HURT.

"Peace should be vastly cheaper than war for those Latin-American countries." "Why vastly?" "Well, you know it costs them a little money for powder, but when peace comes there will be no pensions to pay."—Toledo Bee.

VICTIMS OF PICTURES.

The Du Maurier man and the Gibson girl have had their day. The children's day has begun, says the Chicago Tribune. Two-thirds of the world know the Kate Greenaway children. They have been exhibited in the periodicals of far-away Italy. The Lord Fauntleroy type was once as much a classic beauty model. For a time the American nursery realm was peopled with tiny maids in pinafores and lads in long curls, velvet suits, broad collars and wide sashes. To-day sweet Emmy Lou is reigning. Not one of them, perhaps, has the appealing roundness of their engaging prototype nor that inimitable air of wanting to keep the world friendly with which C. L. Hinton has made Mrs. Martin's little maid immortal. But all have their hair parted in the middle and looped up at the temples; all wear dresses cut after the same pattern as cases the resemblance is strong enough to make you feel that the tots are not real little persons—that they are just little figures who have stepped out of a story book. Even infants are no longer allowed the luxury of simple babyhood. Nowadays they must be "fashionable babies," in gowns that are great blobs of color and in headgear that robs them of natural profile. Lovable they are, of course, because they are babies, and not know enough to live up to the parts that their clothes would assign them. But would they not be more attractive if they could be just themselves?

BERLIN'S CENSUS.

According to the new census of Berlin, Germany, the population of that city is 1,901,567—an increase of only 12,815 during the past year, as against 42,883 in the preceding year. The falling off in the rate of increase is attributed to the movement of the inhabitants to new suburbs made accessible by electric traction.
